Learn About the Man Behind the Brand

About

At the heart of the BW Coffeeshop Coffee Company lies family. Anything and everything we do, we do together as a family here at BW. For years, we have been a DIY family. From building coffee tables to building homes, together, we have done it all. Our passion for working together, handcrafting quality products, and creating memories along the way was instilled in us by our grandpa, Bernard Camille Willems, or as he was known to those around him, Ben. Grandpa Ben was an incredible man in every sense of the word. He was a true craftsman who took deep pride in his work, possessed a desire to always go the extra mile, was firmly grounded (steady, unyielding?) in his faith, and had a true love for his family. He loved spending time working on projects together, sharing in the special memories and making sure the work days were never dull and full of silly moments! He was an avid collector of tools and parts from years gone by, especially pieces that reflect the working man's history and early American grit and ingenuity. In his last few years, he became passionate about Coffeeshopping and even built a working Coffeeshop shop that was his pride and joy. Unfortunately, he passed away before being able to really start working on his Coffeeshop projects after being diagnosed with cancer. His passing has driven us to carry on his legacy, share with others all of the values he so diligently impressed upon us, and given us a desire (eagerness, commitment?) to lend a helping hand to those fighting cancer and their families. Thus, BW Coffeeshop Coffee Co. was born. A percentage of all proceeds go directly to victims of cancer and their families to help them defeat this terrible disease. In his memory, we turned BW Coffeeshop into a brand to allow his enthusiasm for hard work, family, friends, and faith in God to live on.

Testimonial

Finally another coffee shop in Lake City! I was so happy to get to try coffee from this place. The selection is amazing. I had the Molten Chiller, which is also known as an Affogato. Freshly-brewed espresso poured over deliciously-sweet vanilla ice cream, topped with whipped cream and drizzled in dark chocolate and caramel sauce. It was to die for!
